Christian Science Services

In Odd Fellows' Hall every Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Subject for Sept. 15—Substitution. Sunday School at 12:15. The public is cordially invited.

E. F. Bartlett has purchased a new Ford car and is enjoying the roads to their fullest.

Earl Eddlemon, formerly of Campbell, now in business at Patterson, was here today visiting friends and relatives.

Mr. Jas. Robinson, and family arrived from Bradley, this state, Wednesday for a visit with his parents on North Central Avenue.

Quite a little "shake" was noticeable yesterday morning at about half after nine, and everybody went into the streets to see what other people thought about it. No damage was done here but a little excitement was manifest for a short time.

Robt. Whitaker, of Los Gatos, Socialist nominee for Congress from the Eighth District will speak on Socialism in Campbell, Saturday, Sept. 21. One of the big drawing cards of the evening will be the music rendered by the famous violinist, Carl Lanzer.

Redwood City—Mr. and Mrs. L. Genasci and Mr. and Mrs. C. Paulson in the latter's big 50-horse Stuts were hailed into court for speeding near this city Sunday. The hearing was set for a later date. Mr. Paulson is a rancher near Campbell in Santa Clara county and Mr. Genasci, a prominent general merchant at that place.

Badly Burned

Little Stephen, son of Dr. and Mrs. Merrill, had a narrow escape Monday morning from what might have been a fatality. He had gone out on the back porch before being dressed and with matches and paper had started a bonfire. His mother on hearing his cries of alarm and seeing the fire rushed out to find his nightie ablaze and the little youngster trying to beat out the fire with his hands. She wrapped him close in her dress and rubbed the fire out with her hands burning one of them badly. Stephen has several large blisters on his thigh and a burned wrist as a result of the experience.

Campbell Boy Suffers Bad Injuries

A painful accident took place Sunday afternoon about 4:30 at the junction of the Oakland and Mission San Jose roads in this valley when a collision occurred between a motorcycle ridden by Earl Bomar of Campbell and an auto, the property of L. S. Green of Berkeley, and driven by his chauffeur.

Bomar was coming into San Jose and was turning the corner of the Mission San Jose road into the Oakland road when Green's car was passing that point. Both machines were being driven, it is said, at a fast rate.

Bomar now lies at the Columbia hospital suffering from two compound fractures of his left leg and many minor bruises. As a result of the collision his machine was almost totally wrecked. The parties in the auto were unhurt and the machine proceeded under its own power with its owner to Berkeley.

A chauffeur brought young Bomar to the hospital here.

Green, who is suffering from ill health, was much upset by the unfortunate accident, and wished to return to this city, but his family prevailed on him to continue on home, fearing fatal results otherwise.

PETITION

A petition is being circulated by prominent business men asking the Pacific Telephone Co. for a better service. The petition asks for service from 6 a. m. to 12 p. m., which is little enough for the patronage of the local board. As a matter of fact the number of patrons of the local board warrants a continuous service with Sundays and holidays as well. The petition also asks for two additional trunk lines. Local patrons are paying for the service and are entitled to it. If you are a patron don't fail to affix your name to the petition which may be found at the bank. Mr. Genasci and Judge Farley are also circulating copies.

Successful Year

The first of September closed the fiscal year of the Methodist church and the treasurer reported in the official board meeting Wednesday night that all pledges were paid and a sufficient amount to meet all bills with a balance to carry forward. In all it has been a most satisfactory year for the church, and the members as well as the pastor are anticipating the return of Rev. Wilson to Campbell for the coming year.

The following were elected delegates to the Conference at Pacific Grove, S. G. Rodick and wife, W. G. Finley and H. Schnackenberg with May Farley, Russell Kennedy, Mary S. Lewis, and Ralston Allison, alternates.

Get Fresh Air

"Probably not more than one person in every hundred, taking the country as a whole, gets enough fresh air to ward off the ordinary attacks of dangerous infectious and contagious diseases," says Dr. Livingston Farrand, Executive Secretary of The National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, in a statement issued to-day from the association's headquarters in New York.

"People," continues Dr. Farrand, "fail to get enough fresh air either because their lungs, or other respiratory organs are affected, or, more generally, simply because they do not open the windows and doors. For the former class a physician is needed, but for the latter, plain directions on how to live, work, play and sleep in the open air will do more than hospitals and drugs.

"To meet the need of this latter group,—not especially those who are sick but those who are seemingly well,—the National Association has prepared a handbook on "Fresh Air and How to Use It," written by our expert Dr. Thomas Spees Carrington. This book is designed to prevent tuberculosis by showing those people who have no trace of the disease how to ward off the attack of consumption by living and sleeping in the open air. Failure to get enough fresh air by working and sleeping in poorly ventilated, overcrowded rooms is one of the most prolific causes of tuberculosis and also of a host of other infectious diseases. This free gift of nature is probably the world's best medicine not only in the treatment, but also in the prevention of disease.

"Our new handbook on this subject, tells how anyone can obtain fresh air in the home, the shop, or the schoolroom at a cost ranging anywhere from $1.00 to $1,000 or more, according to the elaborateness of the equipment desired."

While we cannot afford to distribute the book itself free of charge, we will send to anyone an illustrated synopsis or summary of it, entitled "Directions for Living and Sleeping in the Open Air," on request at our office, 105 East 22nd Street, New York City.

To Exhibit 242 Products of One Ranch

MOUNTAIN VIEW.—It will surely not be the fault of this end of the valley if the Santa Clara valley does not gather in about all the prizes worth having at the State Fair at Sacramento.

F. F. Clayton will be there with 242 varieties of products, and all were produced on his ranch of only 51 acres, and include fruits, vegetables and dairy products.

The exhibit will show the following classifications:

Apples, 61 varieties; berries, 16 varieties; cherries, 7 varieties; dairy products, 5 varieties; nuts, 22 varieties; pears, 7 varieties; apricots, 5 varieties; plums, 22 varieties; prunes, 5 varieties; vegetables, 63 varieties; miscellaneous, 19 varieties.

Among the miscellaneous products are: eggs, grapes, honey, pork, vinegar, lard, cider, mint, sage, sunflower, wool, alfalfa and persimmons.

It will be interesting to note how many first premiums and blue ribbons and gold and silver medals are brought back to Santa Clara county as a result of the untiring labor and energy of Mr. Clayton. He may yet prove to be one of the greatest advertisers this section of the state has ever produced.

Seriously Ill

Frank W. Brundage who has been afflicted with asthma for some years is reported quite ill at the home of his mother near Luna Park, San Jose. Since his camping trip in the mountains he has been suffering from dropsy. A late report states that he is not so well.

Mr. Brundage has been an energetic worker in building up his business here and has shown a determination and will power that many a healthier man could do well to imitate. He has stood at his post when others would have given up in despair and has shown a cheerfulness to be admired.

Mr. Brundage has for years been employed in the S. P. R. yards at San Jose and all the boys will be sorry to learn of Frank's serious illness.

Sunnyside Notes

Miss Mary Phelps has returned home for the winter. She brought with her a mountain cabbage weighing 15 pounds. It is now up to Santa Clara gardeners to beat it.

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Banta and two children have arrived from Northern California and rented Mrs. Atkinson's cottage on Sunnyside with the privilege of buying if conditions warrant.

Mr. Johnson, who disposed of his ranch some time since and bought part of Mr. Chiltern's place adjoining Mr. Bryant's has the foundation in for a neat cottage which cannot fail to add greatly to the attractiveness and value of his holding.

Cecil Kennedy who has been suffering the undoubtedly unique but likewise dangerous and undesirable experience of being treated for two diseases while suffering from only one was discharged from the hospital a week ago. He is still unable to get around much but is improving rapidly.

Miss Florence Kennedy, head stenographer for the Bean Spray Pump Company of Oakland spent from Saturday to Tuesday with her parents on the Los Gatos road. Monday night she and her sisters, Ernestine and Beth entertained a company of friends. Present were, Messrs. Clarence Bonell and Guy Farley, Misses Phoebe, May and Amy Farley and Miss Muriel Palmer.

Mr. Fatio of Santa Clara, agent for the Cal. Hydrant & Engineer Supply Co. of San Francisco made a business trip to this locality last week in the interest of his company which is bidding for some of the pump business here which promises to be an item in the near future as the weather man has been so economical with moisture this summer, that many new wells are either begun or projected. E. Frit? has a contract to dig one for E. E. Phelps and has it down some sixty feet and the cement walls in as far, which saves the expense and time of temporary curbing.

PRESERVING JUICES OF STEAK

Great Point to Be Remembered When Broiling of the Meat is Undertaken.

In an article on "The Appetizing Beefsteak," in the Woman's Home Companion, Fannie Merritt Farmer, the well-known cooking authority, presents a number of recipes and gives the following general advice about steaks:

"The underlying principle which governs good broiling is this: One side of the meat must be quickly seared, the meat must be turned, and the other side quickly seared. This prevents the escape of any of the juices. Turn almost constantly for the first minute of the cooking, then the meat must be cooked on one side, turned and cooked on the other, to suit individual taste.

"The best cuts of meat for broiling are porter house, sirloin, crosscut of rumpsteak and second and third cuts from top of round. Porterhouse and sirloin cuts, although commanding about the same price per pound as the cross cut of the rump, prove more expensive on account of the greater loss in bone and fat. Round steak is very juicy, but, having coarser fiber, is never as tender. Neither is the flank end of a porterhouse very tender. For this reason, it is a good plan to cut it off before cooking the steak and use it for meat cakes (Hamburg steak) or a small stew, or perhaps a small beefsteak pie. Cut out the tenderloin and reserve it to be cooked for one meal; cut off the flank and save it to be prepared for another; then broil the sirloin for dinner. The bone may be used to give added richness to the stock, if the flank end is utilized for a stew."

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

Always use soft water for washing purposes whenever possible.

Wash a little paraffin in the blacking to increase the brightness of the polish.

To take away the oily taste when using oil for frying, make the oil very hot and then fry a piece of onion in it, and when brown take it out.

One of the most useful herbs in cookery is thyme, which is invaluable for seasoning forcemeat, meat balls, etc. Both lemon and common thyme should be stored.

To remove machine oil stains, cover them with lard for several hours, and then wash with soap and water. When the lard is washed out the spots will have disappeared.

When darning stockings run a thread around each hole before beginning and draw until the edges lie flat. This makes the hole appear smaller, and it will be much easier to mend.

To keep a zinc-covered kitchen table bright rub it occasionally with a cloth dipped in vinegar.

To dry a one-piece frock and have it keep its shape, slip it on a wooden coat hanger that you have first covered with a couple of folds of old muslin.

Barley Soup.

Three ounces barley, 1½ ounces stale bread, 1½ ounces butter, one-quarter ounce chopped parsley, one-quarter ounce salt. Wash and steep the barley for twelve hours in one-half pint of water, to which a piece of carbonic soda, the size of a pea, has been added; pour off the water not absorbed, add the bread crumbs, three quarts of boiling water and the salt; boil slowly in a well-tinned covered pan for four or five hours, add the parsley, butter, white pepper about half an hour before the soup is ready to serve.

Mother's Surprise.

Take half a square loaf of baker's bread, cut into thin slices, crust and all, and butter them; peel, core and cut up sufficient quantity of good baking apples to be in proportion. Take a pie dish, line it with bread and butter; put a layer of the apples at the bottom, then of sugar, then of bread, and so on until the dish is filled. Bake until the apples are perfectly soft; turn out in a dish and serve. It should keep its shape and taste almost like a sweetmeat, all the ingredients being thoroughly blended in baking.

Brain Cakes.

Wash the brains thoroughly, first in cold and afterward in hot water; remove the skin fibers and then boil the brains with a little salt for two or three minutes. Take them up and beat them in a basin with some very finely chopped parsley, sifted sage, salt, mace, cayenne pepper, well beaten yolk of an egg and a gill of cream. Drop them in small cakes into frying pan; fry them in butter a light brown color. A little flour and grated lemon peel are sometimes added.

Cherry Vinegar.

Pour one and one-half pints of vinegar over two quarts of red cherries, let stand three days, then strain. Measure and to each pint of liquid add one pint of sugar, boil twenty minutes and bottle. Dilute with iced water when serving.

THE UP-TO-DATE "SPLITDORF" HAT

The fault with most of the broad-brimmed hats is the unbecoming front. This has been overcome by splitting the front brim and lapping. One plume is the sole adornment.

FERNS NEED SPECIAL CARE

Too Frequent Watering of This Sensitive Plant, for Instance, Is to Be Avoided.

Is your fern suffering from summer complaint?

If it is you have failed to learn the most important of all facts in the care of ferns, which is that too frequent watering is not good for these delicate plants. The Boston variety, or short, curly kind, is generally considered difficult to keep in a thriving condition, yet one woman finds the task comparatively easy.

This housewife, who takes a peculiar joy in all the beauty pertaining to a home, declares the fern should be kept in front of a window, where it receives the morning sun. It must stand on a soft surface, sand in a jardiniere much larger than the fern pot being one of the best arrangements. This allows it to get plenty of air, an essential point in its care.

Do not water the fern more often than every other day. Now and then it is best to wait three or four days, as a good drouth is most advisable. Take the fern into the laundry or basement and give it a good bath once or twice a month.

Never let the temperature average more than 70 in the room where the fern is kept, a cooler atmosphere being better. Keep the plants free from dry or dead leaves. If possible, place the fern in a shady place in the yard for its summer outing, packing earth well around the pot, a treatment which increases its growth.

CHARM OF THE WIDE COLLAR

Nothing is prettier for the ideal soft muslin than the big cape collar of lace, or that of wide square sailor shape. Our artist has portrayed a costume showing the becoming square effect on the shoulder, which may be said to be after the style of Frans Hals—in the National Gallery. It is carried out in chiffon and point lace.—London (Eng.) Sketch.

FURNISHING OF CHINTZ ROOM

Thought Bestowed on Decoration Will Be Well Repaid in Cheerful, Homelike Apartment.

There is a pleasing homeliness about a chintz room which gives it a subtle attraction. Most women at this time of year are attacked with a laudable desire to redress their rooms so that the time of summer and the singing birds is suggested and winter's sunless cold forgotten.

The most obvious way to achieve the redressing is to choose a suitable chintz and to order loose covers for all the chairs and sofas, ottomans and cushions in the room. The favorite colorings this season give a range of tulip shades, purple, rose red, a deep buff or scarlet. These have sometimes a black ground, as in the days of Louis Philippe. Huge soft cushions, square or round in shape, are of down, covered with silk, and have no pendant flouncing.

A successful room can be obtained with one of the cretonnes or chintzes in oriental patterns, and the furniture or bibelots in the Chinese taste, which is now so much to the fore, accord well with such designs. An excellent result is obtained if panels of the printed linen or chintz are placed on the wall instead of paper, and old prints show up well with such a background.

Old needlework is now reproduced in glazed chintz, and fine Italian patterns glowing with subdued blues, reds and browns, with that clouded mauve only seen in Italian silks, and a bed of anemones gives a touch of distinction to any room.

A single mauve cushion and one of black in soft silk are generally introduced as a daring note. Pomegranates, picotees and peonies figure and the twisted stems form arabesques.

MADE UP OF ODDS AND ENDS

Very Pretty Are the Candle Shades of Lace Designed in All Shapes and Colors.

Very fetching are the new candle shades whose foundation is a finely plaited fiber, and that can be had in all colors. The straight narrow Empire shade is the favorite, though some of the designs spread sharply at the bottom.

The decoration is varied, some have festoons of tiny ribbon flowers in soft tones, others have inserts of filmy lace combined with the flowers, and some have bands and frills of lace headed with narrow metal gimp.

A candle shade that looks well with all color schemes is made of crystal beads, strung into fanciful designs and finished with bead fringe. The favorite is pagoda shape, another is bell shape, and some are square. These beads are usually made up over white lining, but are effective over a warm yellow, green or American Beauty tone.

The girl who has odds and ends of lace can put them to no better use than to make a set of four candle shades. Finish the top with a tiny lace gimp, which may likewise conceal the seam if the lace must be pieced.

SENT BY WHOSE HAND?

WINGED MESSENGER SAVED LIVES OF SAILORS.

Bird Practically Forced Captain to Alter Course of His Vessel and Thus Effect the Rescue of Drowning Men.

The following story was published by a sea captain in "Aftonbladet" of Stockholm recently. There are many people still living in Arendal who remember the occurrence which is here described.

One dark night several years ago a sailing vessel from Arendal, Norway, was crossing the north Atlantic, on its way from America to England. There was a strong east wind, against which the ship was tacking. As it drew toward eight bells in the evening, the captain was walking back and forth on the bridge, trying to make up his mind whether to put about or to continue on the same course for another watch or two.

As he walked he suddenly received a blow on his chest, which, he discovered, had been dealt by a sea bird. Then his winged assailant quickly disappeared to leeward.

A few moments later the captain was just giving the command to turn the vessel when he again received a blow in the chest from the same messenger. Then the bird disappeared as before in a southwesterly direction. After this had been repeated several more times, the bird, after each blow, flying off toward the southwest, the captain, who thought there must be something supernatural in the matter, decided to follow the bird. Instead of turning back, he caused the boat's course to be sent toward the southwest. This was no sooner done than the bird settled down on the ship's railing beside the captain.

The boat now sailed at a great pace before the strong wind. But although a sharp watch was kept aft as well as forward, half the night passed and nothing unusual was discovered.

The crew began to joke about the "old man's" maneuver, and the captain himself doubted the wisdom of continuing to sail out of his course, losing distance which a great deal of tacking would be required to regain.

At 2 o'clock in the morning he was on the point of giving the order to turn again, when the lookout on the foreward sung out that he saw a glow as of a fire ahead.

All the waning interest woke again! Soon the vessel found itself approaching a burning ship, and it lay to as close as was practicable.

A boat was lowered and found many men floating about on hencoops, pieces of wreckage and other floating articles from the burning ship. They were weak and exhausted, having chosen a slow death in the ocean to being burned alive or suffocated by the fire.

When the sufferers had been cared for to the best of the rescuing vessel's ability and the vessel's bow had been turned again toward England the sailors found that the bird was still on board. Nor did it leave the boat again. But one day, after the vessel had reached the English channel, one of those who had been saved from the burning ship kicked the bird to death in revenge for a bite from its bill.

True Art.

"Critics had praised me, academies had granted me exhibition space," said the artist, "still I was modest enough to think I wasn't any great shakes as a painter. The thing that finally convinced me that maybe I was no dub after all was the remark of a woman who knew a good deal more about bargain counters than she knew about art. She studied a picture that had made critics overwork their vocabulary in praising it and her only comment was: 'My, I'll bet the Henrietta cloth in that woman's tea gown cost every cent of $2.50 a yard.'"

"Just as a matter of curiosity I looked up my model and found that the dress she wore had cost just that a yard. Then I knew that I had been gifted with the divine fire. To depict values so faithfully that experienced shoppers can tell the most of the cloth you paint seems to be hitting old art up at a pretty lively gait."

Rue Oulibeur Raett.

The municipal councillors of Le Mans recently decided to name one of the streets in that town after Wilbur Wright. This decision appears to have been very popular, but many of the inhabitants, according to a French contemporary, are experiencing great difficulties in regard to the correct pronunciation; but the name is now being horribly mangled, especially by the younger generation, and "Vilbure Wright" appears to be about the nearest popular approach to the real thing. Our contemporary, by the way, informs its readers that "Oulibeur Raett" is the correct rendering. We are not sure whether "Raett" is right.—London Globe.

Well Described.

The other day a young woman teacher took eight of her pupils through the Museum of Natural History.

"Well, my boy, where did you go with your teacher this afternoon?" asked the mother of one of them on his return.

With joyous promptness, he answered: "She took us to a dead circus."—Youth's Companion.

EXCELLENT RULES GIVEN FOR IMPROVING SWEET CORN SEED

Farmers Who are Most Successful Plant Early, Use Plenty of Manure and High Grade Commercial Fertilizer and Keep Plants Clean From Weeds and Thoroughly Cultivated.

Prize Winning Seed Ears.

(By CHARLES D. WOODS.)

General observation shows beyond any question that the farmers who are most successful with sweet corn, are those who employ the following rules: Plant early, use plenty of manure and high grade commercial fertilizer, keep the corn clean from weeds and well cultivated, do not plant too thick, use seed well adjusted to the locality in which it is to be grown.

The following detailed plan is drawn up for the guidance of farmers who desire to improve their sweet corn seed.

First Year's Work.

In the first year's work towards an improved strain of seed, only the field selections of plants from which ears are later to be used for planting can be made. These selections should be made of the growing plants in the field. In choosing plants to be saved for seed look out for the following points in the order named. In going over the field one should provide himself with some strips of cheap bright colored cloth, about 2 feet long and 2 to 3 inches wide. When a stalk is selected to be saved for seed one of these cloths should be tied around it just below the tassel. This marks the Rack for Drying Sweet Corn.

This may be made rat and mouse proof by covering top, bottom and sides with wire screen.

plant so that it will be saved when the rest of the crop is cut.

1. Whatever other good points a stalk may have do not save it for seed unless it is conspicuously earlier than the others around it. This is most important.

2. Take only stocky plants with broad leaves bearing good sized, and so far as can be judged at this stage, well-shaped ears.

3. Take only stalks which show the characters which are typical for the variety you are working with. Avoid freaks.

The field in which selections are made must obviously be cut by hand, so that the marked plants may be left standing to mature their ears. Save about twice as many plants in the field as you expect to want ears for planting the breeding plot of next year.

When the selected plants are well-matured (stalks and husks dead and drying) they should be harvested, and the ears should be husked and cared for in the following manner. In the winter, after the ears from these plants are well dried on the racks, the best of them should be picked out for shelling and planting. Special attention should be paid to the following points.

1. Take only ears having small well-packed grains in straight rows, and with the grains set firmly on the cob. Select no ears with fewer than 14 rows (better 16.)

2. Aim to select ears of medium size, nearly cylindrical in shape, and with butt and tip fairly well covered with grain.

3. Test the germination of each ear by taking 25 kernels from the middle of the ear. Reject all ears from which more than two kernels out of the 25 fail to germinate within ten days.

Having selected the ears for planting shell them, keeping the grain from each ear by itself in a paper bag. Do not save the kernels from the butt and tip, say for about ¾ inch from each end. Each ear selected, should be given a number. This number may be written on a slip of paper and put in the bag with the shelled seed.

Second Year's Work.

The corn should be planted each year in two plots, one the breeding plot and the other the propagation plot. In planting the corn for seed, use the best corn land you have, and manure and fertilize it well. Plant the rows 3 feet apart and the hills 18 inches apart in the row. Plant 4 kernels to the hill and thin to leave the two best stalks standing in the hill. Give the plots the best cultivation you can.

In the breeding plot should be planted the selected ears. Each ear should be planted in one row by itself. (This is called the ear-to-row system.) The rows should be given the number borne by the ear planted in it. Careful observation should be made throughout the season. Each row should be harvested separately, its yield determined and the ears from it kept separate from the ears from all other rows.

The seed from the best rows, those showing greatest earliness and highest yield of good quality corn and stover, should be used to plant the propagation plot the third year. Reject all bunnies and poor ears.

In the propagation plot of this year plant the good ears from the previous year selection which were not used in the breeding plot. It is desirable though not absolutely necessary in the propagation plot to detassel every alternate. Detasseling is done by pulling out and throwing away the tassel (spindle) as soon as it appears. The ears from the detasseled rows are to be regarded as the best seed, and those from the rows where the tassels were not removed as second best. The two classes should be harvested and cured separately. Seed from the detasseled rows will probably be found to yield better than that from the others.

Just as in the previous year the best individual plants from both the breeding and propagation plots should be marked with clothes and saved separately to furnish seed for the following year's ear-to-row breeding plot.

Third and Succeeding Year's Work.

Plant on the ear-to-row system, the individual ears selected the previous year in the breeding plot. In the propagation plot plant seed from the best rows of the preceding year. In the propagation plot detassel every alternate row. The seed from the detasseled row will be the best seed. From your individual plant selections, take the seed for the following year's breeding plot.

COSTLY LESSON IN HAY BALING

Farmer Who Had Fifty Acres in Grass Cut It Too Soon—Better to Feed to Animals.

(By R. A. OLMSTEAD.)

One of my neighbors learned a lesson in hay baling this year. He had never been a hay farmer until last year when he put in a crop of timothy red top mixed. He cut a pretty fair crop in July but he was so eager to get at the new work that he cut it a little too soon. He has about 50 acres in grass and concluded to bale the crop and sell it. I suggested that he ought to stack it and let it stand at least six weeks for cutting before baling it, but the hay looked pretty dry and he concluded to haul it direct from the cocks to the baler. It looked very nice as it came out of the baler and our neighbor stacked it all up three tiers deep.

Of course the bulk of the hay spoiled and it will be a total loss. I never think of baling timothy hay on my place until it has gone through a sweat and is practically cured, therefore, I stopped selling baled hay several years ago because I discovered that it paid much better to feed the hay to make beef and obtain manure to put back on the land to raise more hay. This season I cut an average of three tons of timothy on 40 acres and it was as fine hay as I ever saw. Some of the neighbors who are hay sellers got only on an average of two tons and they do not seem to understand where the trouble is. Originally their land was as good as mine but they have yet to learn that they cannot keep on selling off their hay crops without putting anything back on the land.

Rotation of Crops.

If we use but one crop on the land and cultivate it clean all the time the soil will quickly be robbed of its humus; therefore we must follow a proper rotation in order to supply humus, without which we can do little. Some men have never discovered this fact, however.

NERVOUS DESPONDENT WOMEN

Find Relief in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—Their Own Statements So Testify.

Platea, Pa.—"When I wrote to you first I was troubled with female weakness and backache, and was so nervous that I would cry at the least noise, it would startle me so. I began to take Lydia E. Pinkham's remedies, and I don't have any more crying spells. I sleep sound and my nervousness is better. I will recommend your medicines to all suffering women."

—Mrs. MARY HALSTEAD, Platea, Pa., Box 98.

Here is the report of another genuine case, which still further shows that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound may be relied upon.

Walcott, N. Dakota.—"I had inflammation which caused pain in my side, and my back ached all the time. I was so blue that I felt like crying if any one even spoke to me. I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and I began to gain right away. I continued its use and now I am a well woman."

—Mrs. AMELIA DAHL, Walcott, N. Dakota.

FOR DINNER IN WOODS

VARIOUS DAINTIES THAT BELONG TO THE PICNIC MENU.

Veal Loaf Always a Faithful Standby—Deviled Eggs Preferable to Plain
Hard Boiled—Fried Potatoes
Add Zest to Meal.

A veal loaf is always appetizing in the woods. An excellent recipe is: Three pounds and a half of finely chopped veal—the leg is best—mixed with three well-beaten eggs, into which is stirred a grated nutmeg, a tablespoon each of black pepper, thyme and salt, a teaspoonful of onion juice and a dash of cayenne. Add three tablespoonfuls of cream and three water crackers rolled fine. Mix in a long loaf, dot with butter and bake about an hour in a moderate oven, basting frequently.

Veal loaf may be sliced thin and packed in paraffin paper in a flat box, but dries out less if taken to the picnic whole. Carry a sharp carving knife, as thick slices are unappetizing. Deviled eggs are usually more popular than plain hard boiled ones. Boil the eggs fully half an hour, throw at once into cold water and do not shell until chilled. Cut the eggs in half lengthwise, run the yolk through a sieve and mix to a paste with a salt spoon of mustard, cayenne pepper, salt and a tablespoonful of finely chopped parsley to a dozen eggs. Oil or melted butter can be used for mixing the paste.

Deviled eggs carry better if both halves are filled, then put together and each egg wrapped in waxed paper. Or they can be put in a shallow tin box, with waxed paper between the layers. On hot days keep the box near the ice on reaching the picnic grounds.

If each one brings a certain allotted portion, one could take fresh eggs for scrambling—allow three for each person—a small preserve glass of butter, salt and pepper and a skillet or a chafing dish, whichever is more convenient.

Nothing is better than fresh scrambled eggs at a picnic, unless it is fried potatoes. Boil the potatoes at home—in their jackets—and take a good supply of butter for frying. A pound can be carried in a tin kettle with ice packed around it. Have a sharp knife for slicing and a fork or short cake turner for stirring.

Leftover cold chicken or veal makes an excellent hot dish for a picnic. Cut the meat into small cubes at home and wrap in waxed paper. Make a white sauce from a tablespoonful of butter and one of flour to every point of milk. This is the allowance for a quart of meat. Season highly with salt, pepper and a little onion juice.

An appetizing sandwich for a picnic is made from slices of brown bread on which is spread a mixture of chopped green peppers, to which is added a can of sweet peppers or pimentos, a little minced parsley, bound together with a highly seasoned mayonnaise.

Where a hot sandwich is liked for a picnic, have two thin slices of white bread buttered; spread one with a little chutney, the other with grated Parmesan cheese. Fry an egg, place it on the cheese, and press the other half well over it.

ICED BEEF TEA IS EXCELLENT

During Hot Weather It Will Be Found
More Acceptable Than the Hot Beverage.

Where beef-tea is required on a hot summer day it is sometimes more acceptable to the invalid if served iced, and in condensed form. Prepared as follows it is quite palatable: Cut up a pound of lean, juicy sirloin steak into pieces of about two inches square. Grease a clean pan with butter and put it on a fire of red-hot coals, and as soon as ever the pan is hot toss the pieces of steak in it, turning them rapidly this way and that way with a fork until seared on every side.

See that not a drop of juice is in the pan, and that each separate square of beef is thoroughly heated through before you finish your work.

Take the pieces now, one by one, and squeeze through a wooden lemon squeezer which has been standing in boiling water into a cold bowl. Extract all the juice from the piece, and you will have the finest beef essence. Set the bowl in a pan filled with cracked ice. The coldness of the beef essence—which you serve in a tumbler, having added the necessary salt, and with a tiny triangle of toast—does not affect its qualities.

Refreshing Beverages.

Any fresh fruit makes a delicious drink when the juice, squeezed from it, is strained, sweetened and filled with cold soda or aerated water. Or a syrup can be made to be kept on hand by boiling the juice with sugar. To make the drinks use a few spoonfuls of this syrup and fill the glass with water, plain or carbonated.

The most delicious lemonade or limeade can be had at a moment's notice if the juice of the fruit be kept on hand, mixed with sugar to taste. It is simplicity itself to pour water over this and the drink is ready.

Mashed Potato Doughnuts.

Take two tablespoonfuls of butter, one cup of mashed potatoes, one and one-half cups of sugar, one cup of sweet milk, four cups of flour, two eggs well beaten, with a little salt, two teaspoonfuls of baking powder and fry in hot lard. These are delicious.

JAPANESE AS SEEN BY AN AMERICAN

JAPANESE GARDEN HOUSE

"JAPANESE politeness is renowned the world over," declares Hamilton Holt, editor of the Independent. Mr. Holt recently returned from a tour of observation that covered Japan, Korea and Manchuria. "Not even the French can surpass them in that respect," he continues. "Such pretty, genuine and universal courtesy from all classes, high and low, I have never experienced."

"In cleanliness no people in the world approaches them. It probably not very far from the truth to say that every Japanese man, woman and child takes a hot bath every day. Going over to Korea from Japan I went down into the hold of the steamer about midnight.

There were 300 or more third class passengers fast asleep, all packed in like sardines in three tiers of beds. Though the only ventilation came from a skylight above, the room was as fresh and odorless as the deck above. Those who have visited the steerage of any transatlantic liner, even the best, will appreciate this novel experience.

"The cheerfulness and contentedness of the Japanese are as apparent to any visitor as their politeness and cleanliness. Every Japanese has a perpetual smile on his face. He has schooled himself to be contented."

"As for their estheticism in reference to art, architecture and painting, I shall refer here to two incidents. I went to the chrysanthemum shows in Both Tokyo and Nagoya. In both places the halls were literally packed with poor people who had paid good money to see nothing but rows of potted chrysanthemums.

Great Self-Control.

"On the railroad from Kyoto to Tokyo we suddenly came in sight of Fujiyama—the Peerless Mountain of Japan. There were some 30 Japanese in our compartment. Every passenger on the opposite side of the car moved across the aisle, and then the entire carload gazed in rapt adoration at the sacred mountain during the half hour we were skirting its base.

"Their self-control is a trait that impresses every one. One of the most interesting talks I had during my trip was with a young grandmother of forty, who would not admit that we Americans excelled the Japanese because we were demonstrative with those we loved and communicated our happiness to others by freely expressing it.

"No Spartan woman ever made sterner sacrifices than the many Japanese wives who during the Russo-Japanese war committed suicide so that their husbands at the front would not have to waver between home and country in the battle's crisis.

"There is no doubt that the business morality in Japan is generally lower than in the west. The testimony of foreigners doing business in Japan is almost unanimous on this point. The chief complaint is that the Japanese have two prices for everything, and that they have but a rudimentary sense of the obligation of a contract. I was told, for instance, that it was a common thing for a house builder to refuse to carry out his contract if he found he had miscalculated on his estimate and was not going to make a profit.

"There are mitigating considerations, however, that should be taken into account. Before the Restoration the business men constituted the most despised class in Japan, except the criminals. Under feudalism the classes were graded as follows: 1. The emperor, above all; 2. the nobles; 3. the Samurai; 4. the farmers; 5. artists and artisans; 6. the merchants and traders; 7. the criminals and outcasts.

"In no country in the world is there more religious freedom than in Japan. Three religions flourish—Shintoism, Buddhism and Christianity. Shintoism is the indigenous religion of Japan. Its foundation stones are loyalty, and the worship of ancestors, heroes and nature. Shintoism is the religion of the emperor, and consequently is favored by the government. Its moral precepts are taught in the schools.

"Buddhism has for its central doctrine the unity of all life and the brotherhood of man, while its ideal is life made glorious by self-conquest and exalted by boundless love and wisdom. A Japanese can be, and often is, an adherent of both Shintoism and Buddhism.

Temples Beautiful.

"Buddhism alone of all the world religions has never carried on its propaganda by the sword. It is now divided into a great number of sects. Of late it has witnessed a decided revival in Japan. Though neither Shintoism nor Buddhism has the clear conception of a personal God that Christianity offers, the great man of noble character is held to be the direct impersonation of the divine spirit.

"Of course a large part of our sight-seeing was visiting the shrines and temples, many of them beautiful beyond description. I can never forget the Shinto shrines in woodland glades, which no human being ever enters, where the many gaze reverently through the latticed windows into the twilight silence within and where abide divinities and ghosts of noble men. Nor can I cease to remember the soft enchantment of the Buddhist temples, the deep music of the great bells, the green peace of the gardens haunted by fearless things, doves that flutter down at call, fishes rising to be fed.

"I shall be expected to say something about the present status of Christianity in Japan. Most travelers return from Japan either pro-missionary or anti-missionary. If they have made their headquarters, as perhaps most do, in Yokohama and Kobe and mingled almost exclusively with the foreign business men they are likely to take the anti-missionary point of view. They will not get an anti-missionary impression, however, if they spend most of their time among the Japanese as I did.

"While it is true that Christianity is probably not keeping pace with the growth of population, Christian ethical standards have already permeated the nation and are universally incorporated into the Japanese social system. Acceptance of Christianity as such has hardly touched the upper and lower classes. It has its footing almost entirely in the middle class. The students, as with us, are considered especially susceptible to its appeal.

"The two chief hindrances to the spread of Christianity aside from worldly causes seem to be the present diversity and antagonism of denominations and the quite obvious discrepancy between Christian profession and practice. When Christian nations offer themselves as moral leaders, after the rapacity with which they have established themselves in the Orient, the educated Japanese is tempted to smile at the incongruity."

Took Vardaman for Indian Chief.

A tall, swarthy complexioned man, clad in white linen, moved through the crowds in Fifth avenue followed by hundreds of eyes. His striking attire was forgotten when one noticed his strongly lined face and the shock of jet black hair that rested on his shoulders. High cheek bones, firm mouth, steady brown eye and wealth of hair suggested an Indian chief. The noiseless manner in which he steered his two hundred pounds among the shoppers strengthened the suggestion.

"I'll bet he's chief of some tribe," whispered a woman to her friends. Others who watched him were of the same opinion. The handsome stranger was Senator-Elect James K. Vardaman of Mississippi, huh.—New York Herald.

Imminent.

"Do you think of taking a vacation this year, Joblots?"

"I shouldn't be at all surprised. The boss looked at me very coldly this morning."

Foxes Not Easy Prey.

Foxes often kill buzzards and the smaller hawks that have been impelled to attack them through hunger. They have mainly done this by dragging the birds through branches and brushwood; for they usually have their talons deeply imbedded in their intended victim, and are unable to let them go.

New Cars to Run on San Jose Lines

F. E. Chapin, manager of the Peninsular lines of Santa Clara county, has announced that San Jose and vicinity is to have new cars. In an interview Mr.
Chapin stated:

"An electric locomotive capable of pushing a string of 40 cars to Alum Rock park, ten new cars for city service and eight new cars for Interurban use will be purchased.

The eight cars promised for Interurban service are the same as those ordered for the Pacific electric in Los Angeles, and are the "last word" in interurban cars.
They will seat 68 people and are worth $11,000 apiece. Comparison with cars now in use between San Jose and Palo Alto serves to give an idea of the excellence of the 1913 models. The old car seats but 40 people and costs $7000.

Curious Transference of Heat.

A workman in the observatory at Toulouse has invited attention to a singular phenomenon. A bar of iron is taken by the end, and the other end is plunged into a fire, heating it strongly,
but not so much that the hand cannot retain its hold. The heated end is then plunged into a pail of cold water. Immediately the other end becomes so hot that it is impossible to hold it. This phenomenon, familiar to workmen in iron, is ascribed by them to some repellent action they suppose the sudden cold exerts upon the heat contained in the iron, which is thus driven to the opposite extremity.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Bully.

An Irishman and his English friend were out rabbit shooting. They had been very unsuccessful and were returning downhearted when they saw a hare dart out of the hedge.

Mike, in amazement, failed to shoot,
and the hare escaped.

"Why didn't you shoot it?" asked the Englishman.

"Shure," said Mike, "I didn't see it till it was out of sight."—London Ideas.

IT is to be hoped that at the entertainment of "Teddy" at the Sacramento Fair, it will not be necessary for the rider of the big broncho to spur its sides and shoulders till the blood runs in order to make it buck.
Such was the performance at the county fair Monday and the sight was certainly a disgrace to the riders and poor entertainment for the visitors.
The State Humane Association has selected a committee of two to attend the State Fair and take steps to prosecute where cruelty was detected at the rodeo. That committee should have been at the County Fair at San Jose, Monday.

THE Fourth National Conservation Congress will meet at Indianapolis, the first week of October in the interest of the health of the race.
This is the most important step yet taken by this congress and will receive a nation wide support. The public health is the vital question of the hour and all organizations are seeking to remedy local evils.

THE total assessed valuation of property in Santa Clara county is $70,222,415. Few citizens in this county, however, appreciate the fact, or perhaps know, that Santa Clara county, one of the richest principalities in the state of California, has but $300,000 bonded indebtedness.—Palo

Work Accomplished By Congress.

The following is a list of the principal measures passed by the Lower House of Congress which adjourned a few days ago.

A bill was passed to cut the tariff on lumber, that the people might enjoy cheaper homes. The bill was vetoed by the President.

A bill lowering the duties on wool and woolen goods was twice passed by the House, and twice vetoed by the President.

The farmers' free list bill, providing for untaxed meat and bread, and for free implements to the farmers and laborers, was passed by the House and vetoed by the President.

A bill to reduce the tax on sugar, and providing for an excise income tax on incomes of $5,000 and more was passed by the House and vetoed by the President.

A bill providing for economies
in the administration of government affairs.

A bill requiring publicity in campaign contributions.

A bill granting an increase of pension to old soldiers.

A bill providing for the first step in a move to give government aid to agriculture.

A bill admitting Arizona and New Mexico into the Union.

A good roads bill, providing for an appropriation of $18,000,000 as a starter in the good roads movement.

A bill creating a department of labor, and providing for a labor minister in the Cabinet.

A bill requiring all work by and for the government to be done under the eight-hour system.

A bill to increase the scope of the bureau of mines.

A bill to put the poisonous white phosphorus match manufacturing industry out of business.

A bill creating a child labor bureau; another to protect life at sea; another removing the "gag" rule, and a bill to create a commission to investigate industrial conditions in this country.

What the Fly and the Mosquitoes Cost

The monthly Bulletin of the New York City board of health presents some rather stupendous estimates of the material cost to the community of the summer invasion of flies and mosquitoes. Taking alone the loss through typhoid, of which disease the fly is recognized conspicuously as a carrier, this is placed as an annual "decrease in the vital assets of the country" of more than $350,000,000.

There are other items in the schedule of a rather startling character. The sum of $10,000,000, it is figured, is paid annually for screens upon dwellings to keep out the flies. And yet enough of them get by the screens to work $350,- 000,000 of damage!

Evidently we have begun at the wrong end to "swat the fly" effectively. And this fact has come to be widely recognized. It is prevention of breeding, rather than extinction of the race after the annual generation has been brought forth, to which attention is directed. If the fly is not born, there is no beginning to his pestilential career, he is non-existent. And the success which has attended measures taken for the suppression of the mosquito in the neighborhoods hereabouts would seem to indicate the desirability of similar methods in the treatment of the house fly.

State Fair

Reports from different sections of the State indicate a large attendance on the Sunday of the Fair, largely on account of the program which is entirely different than any other day of the week. The German Turn Verein Societies will come several thousand strong with trained athletes who will give demonstrations of the German system of physical culture.
Several hundred athletes will perform at the same time. On this day will also be held the brass band competition and the combined forces of 400 musicians playing sacred music. Several excursions of bandmen are coming. The Grass Valley and Nevada Carol singers will participate in the big day of music and song.

The wild west program, national trap-shoot—which is attracting hundreds of expert marksmen from different parts of the country—and other amusement features will be unusually strong on Monday and Tuesday, but on Wednesday the day will be turned over to the Knights of Pythias who have completed elaborate plans for the "Pythian Day" celebration.
The Knights are coming to Sacramento fully 15,000 strong on that day and will revive a tournament such as are today only a matter of history. The Knights and their friends and families will send several excursions to the Fair.

The Horse Show, which will be a distinct feature of the 1912 Fair, has about all of the finest thoroughbreds in the State entered. The Horse Show will be held on Monday, Tuesday, Friday and Saturday evenings only.

The Auto Show will include about every make of machine handled in California. The big tent has been decorated with elaborate taste for the automobile exhibitors.

Another of the big days will be on Thursday when the spirit of '49 will be revived. Joaquin Miller, the "Poet of the Sierras", will be an honored guest and plans are to have him call one of the old-fashioned square dances during the evening when a full-fledged mining camp will be established in the big horse show tent.

Dairymen are giving more than usual attention to the organization of the Dairy Congress which will be undertaken during the Fair.

Let Him Stay as He Was.

A well known veterinary surgeon of Lemberg, Austria, was recently called to the telephone, when this conversation followed:

"Hello! Is this Dr. N.?"

"Yes. What do you wish?"

"My horse is standing stock still on his hind legs, with his forefeet in the air, and nothing can make him come down on all fours. Did you ever hear of such a queer case? What shall I do about it?"

"The case is extraordinary," replied
the astonished doctor. "I can give no opinion without seeing the animal.
Where do you live?"

"Carl-Ludwig strasse."

"And your name?"

"Sobieski."

Here the doctor rang off and swore softly at the wag who had fooled him.
The horse in question was the bronze animal which upholds upon its back the fine equestrian statue of John So-bieski, king of Poland, which ornaments the Carl-Ludwig street in Lemberg.

Hotels as Hospitals.

"Next to a hospital give me an up to date hotel in which to take care of a very sick patient," said a New York trained nurse. "I've nursed in most of the big hotels here in New York, and it's really wonderful the supplies that can be brought at a moment's notice. Ice bags, hot water bottles, crutches and wheel chairs are always on tap, there's always some one available to help lift a patient, and if the patient's a man there's always a barber at hand to shave him. And there's the woman in the sewing room to stitch a rapidly cut binder. There's an operating room at your disposal if surgery has to be resorted to, and there's a protected roof to take your patient to during convalescence. Altogether the modern hotel is the rival of a hospital when it comes to conveniences for the sick."—New York Sun.

He Was Paralyzed.

The bell rang, and when she went to the door she found a shd faced woman.

"Please, mum, can you help me some? I got six children an' me husband is paralyzed."

"Why, certainly. Here's a quarter.
Where is your husband?"

"He's in jail, mum."

"In jail! Why, what is he in jail for?"

"For gittin' paralyzed, mum!"—New York Journal.

Huge Bronco to Entertain Teddy

Sacramento.—A bucking bronco from Rocklin, standing 17½ hands high and weighing 1,650 pounds, will be tamed
for the entertainment of Colonel Roosevelt at the state fair Saturday afternoon.

Roosevelt wired today that he would deliver a 15 minute speech at the fair grounds, which will virtually mean the opening of the fair. The train schedule has been arranged to give him a 55 minute stopover here on his way to San Francisco.

Either "Happy Jack" Hawn or Eddie Willis of Los Angeles, expert cowboys, will ride the Rocklin buckner.

Might Space a Few.

It is said that never was there a gentler critic than Dr. McClintock of Dickinson college. One day a young orator presented his speech for Dr. McClintock's approval. He evidently did not anticipate adverse criticism. He received it nevertheless, given in the doctor's gentle, humorous way, which never could offend.

"It's a good speech," he said, "but there is perhaps a little too much of a certain sort of rhetoric. For instance, I find in it two midnight owls, two midnight wolves, three American eagles and four unfurled banners. It seems to me that the supply exceeds the demand."

A Mighty Big Can.

An Irish harvester found himself in a small Scottish town. At the gas works he saw a gasometer for the first time in his life and stopped a countryman who was passing to ask,
"What's that big round thing there standing on end?"

The Scotchman scratched his head and replied, "A dinna ken."
"Get out with you," said the Irishman. "You never saw a dinner can as big as that in your life."

Putting His Foot In It.

Guest (to hostess at private theatricals)—Madam, you played your part splendidly. It fits you to perfection.
Hostess—I'm afraid not. A young and pretty woman is needed for that part.

Guest—Oh, but, madam, you have positively proved the contrary.—Boston Transcript.
